EXPORT AND IMPORT MERCHANDISE TRADE

(This release supersedes Reports FT 900-E and FT 900-I, which prior to the April 1968 issue were released separately, and includes selected commodity section and division totals adjusted for seasonal and working-day variations.)

The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, announced today a seasonally adjusted May 1968 export total of $2,719.7 million, excluding Department of Defense (D.O.D.) Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments; and a seasonally adjusted general import total of $2,751.9 million, the highest in history.[1] [2] Comparable totals for April were $2,888.5 million for exports and $2,640.5 million for imports. The May seasonally adjusted export total, though somewhat less than the record total reported for April, represents a continuation of the average level of exports reported for the first 4 months of the year. The Bureau stated that May was the second month in a row that record totals for U.S. general imports were recorded. The Bureau pointed out, however, that the figures reported for both exports and imports during April may have reflected above normal export and import activity at the port of New York following the settlement of the 11 day longshoremen's strike there on March 29. (About one fourth of all exports and one third of all imports are handled through this port.) The Bureau does not have adequate information to measure precisely the effect of the strike on the statistics.

For the first 5 months of 1968, exports on a seasonally adjusted basis were at an annual rate of $32,690 million while imports were at an annual rate of $31,718 million. This represents an increase in exports of about 6 percent over the calendar year 1967 total of $30,942 million and an increase in imports of about 18 percent over the calendar year 1967 total of $26,816 million.

For the 4-month period, February 1968 - May 1968, seasonally adjusted exports averaged $2,709.0 million per month, a level about 3 percent higher than the $2,618.3 million reported for the preceding 4-month period, October 1967 - January 1968. Similarly adjusted imports averaged $2,651.7 million per month for the current 4-month period, a level about 9 percent higher than the $2,427.8 million average reported for the preceding 4-month period.

Seasonally adjusted export and import totals for selected Schedule A and B commodity sections and divisions are shown in tables 4 and 5. (Unlike the overall total, the commodity components for exports exclude foreign merchandise and include D.O.D. Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments.)

May exports, unadjusted and excluding Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments, were valued at $2,944.4 million, a level approximately the same as the $2,944.2 million reported for April. With Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments included, May exports were valued at $2,968.1 million, a level slightly less than the record total of $2,983.4 million reported for April. Unadjusted general imports during May were the highest on record, $2,814.6 million as compared to the April total of $2,755.3 million, the previous high.

[1] Adjusted for seasonal and working-day variation, but not for price level.

[2] Cumulations of data over at least 3- or 4-month periods are desirable to identify underlying trends. Month-to-month changes in exports, imports, and similar series often reflect primarily irregular movements. Recent month-to-month percent changes in the overall seasonally adjusted export and import series are presented in the following table with average percent month-to-month rise and decline over longer periods shown for comparison. (Excludes percentage changes far the period December 1962-March 1963 and December 1964-May 1965 because of abnormalities in the data due to effects of strikes.)

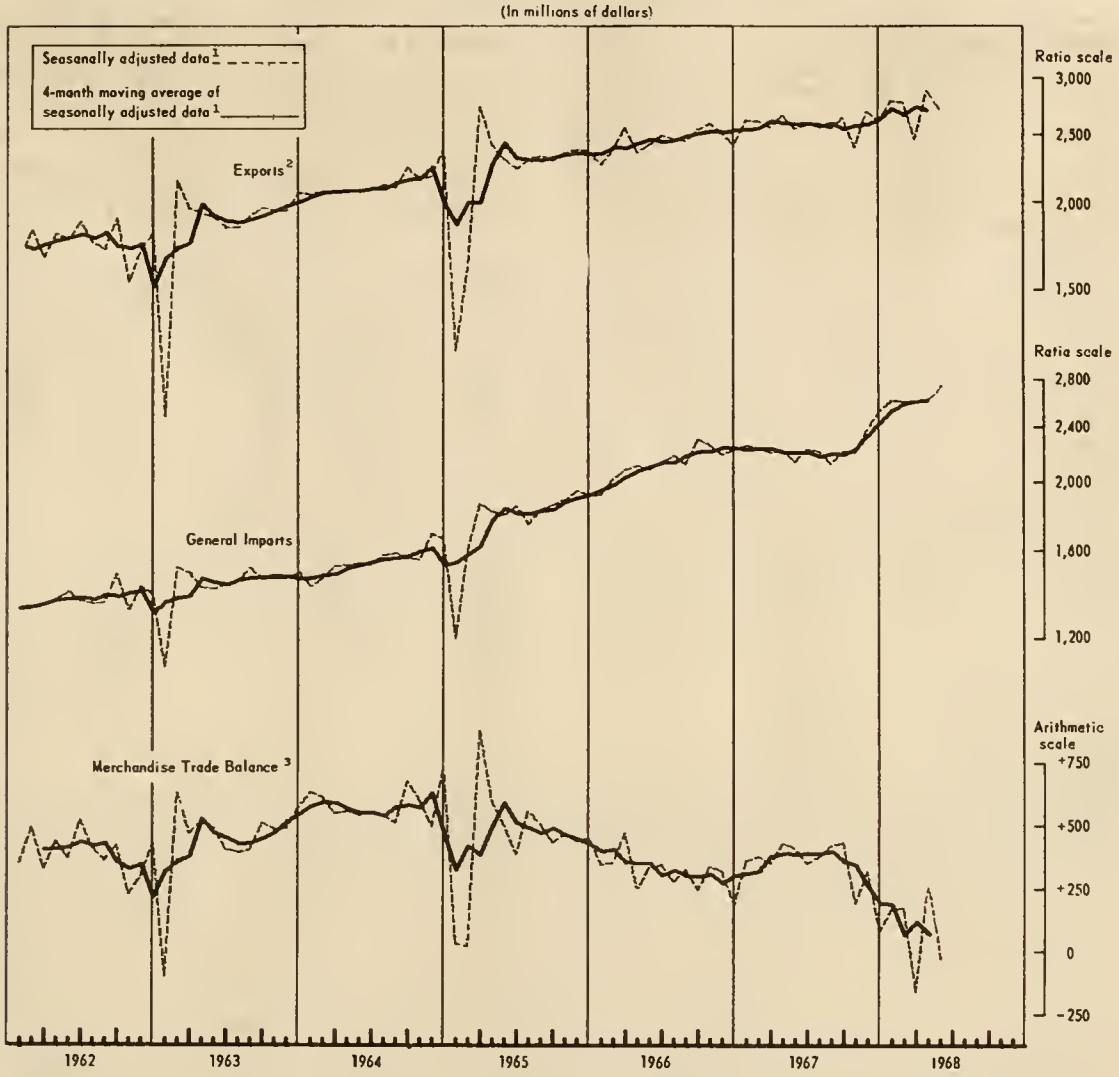
EXPLANATION OF STATISTICS

The dollar value shown in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country excluding U.S. import duties, freight charges from the foreign country to the United States, and insurance. General imports are commodities imported for immediate consumption plus entries into bonded warehouses. Imports for consumption are commodities imported for immediate consumption plus withdrawals for consumption from bonded warehouses. The dollar value shown in the export statistics is defined generally as the f.a.s. value, U.S. port of exportation. None of the values have been adjusted for changes in price level. Additional information regarding coverage, valuation, etc., is available in Report FT 990, Highlights of U.S. Export and Import Trade; in the brochure, Guide to Foreign Trade Statistics: 1968; or upon request to the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Information regarding the methodology used in seasonally adjusting the data is available on request to the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

U.S. Exports, General Imports, and Merchandise Trade Balance, Adjusted For Seasonal and Working-Day Variation: January 1962 to May 1968

(In millions of dollars)



[1]Abnormal fluctuations in the data for December 1962-March 1963, December 1964-May 1965, and March 1968 are due to effects of dock strikes.
[2]Represents exports of domestic and foreign merchandise excluding Department of Defense (DOD) Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments.
[3]Defined as exports (see footnote 2, above) minus general imports.

[1]Data shown reflect adjustments for seasonal and working-day variation and do not necessarily add to annual unadjusted totals. The 1967 seasonally adjusted figures reflect revisions made in the seasonal adjustment factors effective December 1967.

[2]Data differs from those released in Department of Defense reports because of a difference in statistical definitions. For a further explanation, see footnote 1, Table E-1, Report FT 990, Highlights of U.S. Export and Import Trade.

[1]Seasonally adjusted figures for section 7 may differ slightly from the sum of divisions 71, 72, and 73 since each is independently adjusted.

[2]Schedule B section and selected division descriptions are as follows:

0. Food and live animals
1. Beverages and tobacco
2. Crude materials, inedible, except fuels
3. Mineral fuels, lubricants, and related materials
4. Animal and vegetable oils and fats
5. Chemicals
6. Manufactured goods classified chiefly by material
7. Machinery and transport equipment
   - 71. Machinery, other than electric
   - 72. Electrical machinery, apparatus, and appliances
   - 73. Transport equipment
8. Miscellaneous manufactured articles, n.e.c.
9. Commodities and transactions not classified according to kind

[3]Data shown reflect adjustments for seasonal and working-day variation and do not necessarily add to annual unadjusted totals. The adjusted section totals in this table and the adjusted overall monthly totals in tables 1 and 2 were developed independently. The figures in this table include Department of Defense Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments which are excluded from the adjusted overall monthly totals in tables 1 and 2.

[4]For technical reasons data are not presented for this section.

Table 5. U.S. General Imports of Merchandise--Schedule A Sections, Seasonally Adjusted and Unadjusted, by Month: January 1967 to May 1968

(In millions of dollars. The figures for 1967 reflect revisions published through the December 1967 statistics. Figures for 1968 are as originally compiled, except as noted in footnote 4, below. Unadjusted totals represent sum of unrounded figures hence may vary slightly from sum of rounded amounts)
